BUYER SCENARIO · 8-STAGE FUNNEL

How we manage a sale, end to end — Sarah Test buys CMO Standard.

A simulation of the canonical NetWebMedia sales motion. We follow Sarah Test, managing partner at Test Law Group, from the moment her form submission lands at 14:22 on May 4 through the kickoff call eight days later. Every stage shows the CRM screenshot, the activity log, who owns the step, and what artifact gets created.

The 8-stage funnel at a glance

NetWebMedia's own pipeline for inbound CMO-Standard buyers. Stages = pipeline columns in `/crm-vanilla/pipeline.html`. Probabilities are baked into the `niche_config`.

New Lead	5% probability · fresh inbound, untouched	~100/mo	→ avg 2.1 d
Qualified	20% · BANT confirmed · real opportunity	~38/mo	→ avg 1.4 d

Won	100% · engagement letter signed · first invoice paid	~7/mo	→ avg same-day
Active Client	Ongoing · kickoff complete · in 30-day Founding Client window	~7/mo	→ 12 mo retention

Reading the funnel: Top of funnel converts at 7–10% for CMO Standard. The bottlenecks are stages 3 (booking the call) and 5 (proposal-to-decision). The other 80% of the cycle time is just calendar gaps — the actual work-per-stage is < 30 minutes.

TRIGGER · CALL CONCLUDED · NOTES SAVED

Pain points captured this call: (1) Intake latency: 4–6 hr first-touch vs. 5-min industry winning threshold. (2) AEO discoverability: not in top-10 ChatGPT citations for anchor practice areas. (3) Referral nurture: ad-hoc, no quarterly touchpoint system. These three become the proposal's "What we discussed" section.

CMO STANDARD RETAINER

Marketing growth plan for Test Law Group

Prepared for Sarah Test, Managing Partner · 4-attorney personal-injury & employment firm

PREPARED FORSarah Test*Test Law Group*sarah@testlawgroup.com*PREPARED BY*Carlos Martinez*CEO, NetWebMedia*carlos@netwebmedia.com

1 · What we discussed (discovery call, 7 May)

Test Law Group is a 4-attorney firm in the U.S. handling personal-injury and employment matters. The firm runs roughly 12 qualified inquiries/month, converting ~18% to signed retainers. Three bottlenecks surfaced on the call:

1. Intake latency. First-touch response averages 4–6 hours, well past the 5-minute window that drives 21× conversion lift in legal.
2. Practice-area discoverability. Test Law Group does not currently rank in the top 10 ChatGPT citations for its two anchor practice areas in its market.
3. Referral nurture is ad-hoc. No systematic touchpoint with referring attorneys between cases.

2 · What you'll get — CMO Standard scope

Failure modes & escalation

Failure	Trigger	Action
Lead goes cold (Stage 1→2 stall)	No reply 7 days after welcome-1	re_engagement sequence fires automatically; deal stays in Stage 1.
Discovery no-show	Calendar event passes without join	Auto-DM via WhatsApp + reschedule link; if 2nd no-show, deal closed-lost.
Proposal goes silent (Stage 5→6 stall)	No reply 5 days after proposal sent	Carlos personally follows up; if 14 days silent, deal closed-lost, contact moves to nurture.
Negotiation deadlock	Same objection raised 3x	Offer the Founding Client guarantee in writing; if still no, decline gracefully and stay in touch.
Payment fails at close	Stripe declines on Won fire	Workflow pauses · finance-controller notified · 24h retry · if still failing, deal reverts to Negotiation.
Founding Client guarantee triggers	30-day check-in shows leads delivered < commitment	customer-success initiates refund of month-1 retainer; setup fee non-refundable; client may continue or part ways.

This is the canonical motion for CMO Standard.

For CMO Premium ($2,990/mo) the playbook is the same but with sales-director leading stages 2–4 and Carlos joining for the proposal call. For AEO Audit ($997) the path collapses to stages 1, 4, and 7 — there's no negotiation or proposal step, just deliver the written audit.
