Sales Simulation · GHL White-Label edition · v1 · 2026-05-11

$497 SETUP · $197/MO · SELF-SERVE SKU

The tool-only SKU — GHL White-Label sub-accounts. Self-serve, $497 + $197/mo.

Per CLAUDE.md's CRM Platform Decision: NWM's client-facing CRM SKU is GHL White-Label. Each client gets a sub-account on NWM's GHL Agency account, provisioned from the Estetica.Social snapshot. This is the product for buyers who want the tool, not the done-for-you service. 5-stage funnel, no engagement letter, no negotiation, mostly self-serve from a pricing-page demo CTA.

What this funnel skips (vs. CMO Standard)

GHL is the productized SKU — provisioning is a one-button workflow, not an engagement.

What's removed	Why
Discovery call (separate)	The 28-min demo IS the discovery. Marcus is shown the template that becomes his sub-account.
Proposal document	The Service Order at Stripe Checkout is the proposal. Terms are visible before payment.
Engagement letter	Productized SKU · no custom scope · service order auto-accepts at payment.
NDA	Marcus is the only one accessing his sub-account · NWM does not access his data.
Founding Client guarantee	14-day pro-rated refund on month-1 if cancelled before sub-account is used.
30-day check-in (CMO-style)	Replaced by 60-min onboarding training within 7 days.
QBR	None. Subscription-only product.

Sales motion in one sentence: Sales-director runs the demo. Buyer pays. Project-manager provisions. Done in 2 days.

New Lead — demo requested from pricing page

TRIGGER · GHL CTA FORM SUBMIT

Marcus, a 2-agent real-estate brokerage owner, lands on `/pricing.html` after a podcast mention. He scrolls past the CMO retainers (too much for him), spots the "GHL White-Label" tier at $497 + $197/mo, and clicks "See live demo." The demo-request form captures his business size, current tool ("spreadsheet"), and what he wants to track. Sales-director gets the Slack ping in under 2 minutes.

Demo Scheduled — Calendly accepted in 11 min

TRIGGER · CALENDAR INVITE ACCEPTED

Sales-director sends the Calendly link via WhatsApp. Marcus books a Friday afternoon 30-min slot 11 minutes later. Quick decision — typical of GHL buyers who already know they want a CRM.

TRIGGER · STRIPE CHECKOUT LINK SENT

Sales-director runs the demo via Zoom. Walks Marcus through the Estetica.Social snapshot adapted for real-estate brokerages — pipeline stages, lead-capture funnel, email automation, calendar booking. Shows what Marcus's white-labeled login page would look like with his logo. Total demo: 28 minutes. Within 3 minutes after the call ends, a Stripe Checkout link is in Marcus's WhatsApp with the $694 first-charge math.

Why showing Estetica.Social converts: The buyer sees a real, working sub-account in their niche. No "imagine what this could look like" — they see what their account WILL look like. This is the single highest-leverage moment in the GHL funnel.

Setup Paid — Stripe Checkout completes

TRIGGER · STRIPE CHARGE $694 SUCCEEDS

23 minutes after the demo ends, Marcus completes Stripe Checkout. $497 setup + $197 month-1 = $694 paid. Subscription SUB-GHL-0014 created at $197/mo, next charge June 8. Service Order GHL-2026-0014 auto-accepts and is filed to the deal.

TRIGGER · GHL AGENCY API CALL SUCCEEDS

16 minutes after payment, project-manager provisions `marcustestrealty.gohighlevel.com` from the `Estetica.Social` snapshot. 28 minutes later, engineering-lead applies the white-label DNS + Marcus's brand kit (logo, primary color, custom favicon). Admin user invite goes to `marcus@marcustestrealty.com`. The 60-min onboarding training is auto-booked for Tuesday at 10am PT.

1 · What you get

- White-labeled GoHighLevel sub-account hosted on NetWebMedia's GHL Agency account
- Sub-account domain: marcustestrealty.gohighlevel.com (custom domain available on request)
- Estetica.Social snapshot adapted for real-estate brokerages (pipeline stages, KPIs, email templates)
- Brand kit applied: logo, primary color, custom favicon, branded login page
- Admin user provisioned (you), unlimited additional users at no extra cost
- All GHL features included: CRM, pipelines, calendars, email + SMS, automations, funnels, A/B tests, surveys, memberships, courses
- 60-minute live onboarding training within 7 days of provisioning
- Email support · response < 24h business days

2 · What you do NOT get

- Content creation, ad management, or any done-for-you marketing work (this is the tool only — upgrade to CMO Standard for done-for-you)
- Custom GHL development (snapshots beyond Estetica.Social adaptation)
- Phone support (email + WhatsApp)

3 · Investment

Item	Cadence	Amount (USD)
Sub-account setup + Estetica.Social snapshot deployment	One-time	$497.00
White-label hosting + GHL platform license	Monthly	$197.00
Today's charge (setup + month 1)		$694.00

Recurring: $197/mo billed automatically on the 8th of each month via Stripe. Cancel anytime — sub-account remains accessible until the end of the paid period.

4 · Provisioning timeline

GHL White-Label playbook

5 stages, mostly self-serve. Where human time goes.

Stage	Owner	SLA	Time per deal	Tool	Artifact
1 New Lead	sales-director	Calendly < 5 min	3 min response	Slack + WhatsApp	Demo form
2 Demo Scheduled	sales-director	Confirmation email auto	2 min	Booking	Calendar invite
3 Demo Done	sales-director	Checkout link < 5 min after call	33 min total	Zoom · Stripe	Stripe Checkout link
4 Setup Paid	System	Auto on charge succeed	0	Stripe Checkout	Service Order · Invoice · Subscription
5 Active Sub-Account	project-manager + engineering-lead	Provisioned < 2h · trained < 7d	~60 min provisioning + 60 min training	GHL Agency API · Zoom	Sub-account · training calendar invite

Why GHL is the second-best entry point (after AEO Audit)

1. Self-qualifying buyer. They want a CRM, not advice. They already know the problem they're solving.
2. Fast cycle. Most deals close in 1–3 days from demo to provisioned.
3. Predictable MRR. $197 × every sub-account = the most reliable monthly line on the P&L.
4. Path to upgrade. ~15% of GHL buyers upgrade to CMO Standard within 6 months once they realize they want done-for-you, not just the tool.
5. Operational simplicity. One snapshot (Estetica.Social), one provisioning script, predictable support burden.

Failure modes

Failure	Trigger	Action
Demo no-show	Calendar event passes without join	Auto-reschedule link · 2nd no-show = closed-lost
Buyer cancels in first 14 days	Subscription cancellation	Pro-rated refund of month-1 if sub-account unused · setup non-refundable · close as churn
Provisioning fails	GHL Agency API error	engineering-lead manually provisions within 4h · client notified · onboarding training pushed if needed
Brand kit incomplete	Logo / colors missing at provisioning	Provision with placeholder · ping client for assets · re-skin within 48h of receipt
Buyer wants custom snapshot	Asks for non-Estetica.Social template	Offer at $1,500 one-time scope adjustment OR redirect to CMO Standard ($1,490/mo includes custom)

The productized end of the lineup.

If AEO Audit is the marketing entry hook, GHL White-Label is the tool entry hook. Two days, $694, no engagement letter, ~15% upgrade to CMO retainer within 6 months. Estetica.Social as the snapshot keeps it operationally simple.
